Cocoon Medical Spa

Jln Sunset Road, Legian, Bali; tel: +62 (3) 61 847 5997, +62 (3) 61 8475 930; cocoonmedicalsapa.com

A combination of internationally trained doctors, the most advanced medical equipment and technology, Australian management and stunning architecture makes Cocoon Medical Spa an international standout. "Our whole focus is on creating the best visible results for the client in a serene Balinese setting," says Louise Cogan, Cocoon's Australian founder.

"Our strategy was to start with high investment in training," she continues. "All registered doctors and nurses have been trained by Australian and British doctors to bring the level of their skills, techniques and communication to international standards. The key point of difference with any other cosmetic clinic is our holistic approach – combining cosmetic and wellness treatments to approach each client as a whole."

With an 80% Australian clientele, Cocoon is a holistic non-surgical centre offering complete skin and wellness packages, including injectables (Botox, fillers), skin tightening (RF) and skin rejuvenation treatments among others.

BOTTOMS UP

Bangkok Phuket Hospital

2/1 Hongyok Utis Rd, Taladyai, Muang District, Phuket, Thailand 83000; tel: +66 7625 4425; fax: +66 7625 4430; phukethospital.com

A surge in colorectal diseases has seen Bangkok Phuket Hospital spearheading treatment of this delicate area, and developing a sub-speciality of colorectal treatment as one of its cornerstones. With the recent launch of the Colorectal Surgery Center, BPH is headed by Dr Art Hiranyakas, a veteran colorectal surgeon with extensive academic experience and international training, and a member of the American Society of Colon and Rectal Surgeons (ASCRS).

Bangkok Phuket Hospital fully embraces tertiary care with a comprehensive range of sub-specialities. It is part of Bangkok Dusit Medical Services (BDMS) group with accreditation from the Joint Commission International (JCI) USA and a current capacity of 200 inpatients and 1,000 outpatients daily. BPH also collaborates with insurance companies worldwide to facilitate a direct billing agreement. ■
